

Summer Camps 2010

Mini-masters Wide World Art Camp

Ages: 4-5
Date: June 21-25
Time: M-F, 9:00am-noon OR 1:00-4:00pm
Location: ArtHaus
Cost: $80 if pre-registered by May 1–
$90 after May 1
(includes all materials, snacks, and a t-shirt)

Instructors: Lea Lovelace and Alyssa Ritter

Join us for a week of creative art projects in our half-day visual art camp. We will start our camp day with open studio time when students are encouraged to experiment with different materials and methods including printmaking, oil and chalk pastels, painting, mixed media collages, and clay. Each day we will explore a new part of the globe, looking at the artwork of various cultures. At the end of the week students will showcase their globally inspired artwork in the ArtHaus Gallery.

Time: M-F, 9:00am-3:00pm

Location: ArtHaus and the (new!) Clay Studio on Washington Street

Cost: $ 150 if pre-registered by May 1 –
$ 160 after May 1
(includes all materials, snacks, and a t-shirt)

Instructors: Rachele Branum and Lea Lovelace

Got a passport? Join us in creating artwork inspired by different artists from different cultures around the globe. Explore printmaking, collage, sculpture, painting, and clay in one week, as we split our day between ArtHaus and the new clay studio on Washington Street. Start each day with open studio time, exploring materials and methods inspired by artists work from around the world. At the end of the week, students will showcase their globally inspired artwork in the ArtHaus Gallery.

Girl Power! Camp

Ages: 10-14

Dates: June 14-18

Time: M-F, 9:00am-3:00pm

Location: ArtHaus and the (new!) Clay Studio on Washington Street

Cost: $ 150 if pre-registered by May 1 –
$ 160 after May 1
(includes all materials, snacks, and a t-shirt)

Instructor: Rachele Branum

Join us for an empowering week as we deconstruct images of women in popular culture, challenging stereotypes, and exploring female identity. We'll express our ideas through painting, collage, clay and more, showcasing our inspirational art at the end of the week in a gallery show open to the public!

Nordic Fest Theatre Project “The Secret Life of Trolls”

Age: 9-13

Date: July 12-24 (performances July 23 & 24)

Time: Monday-Friday, 9-noon

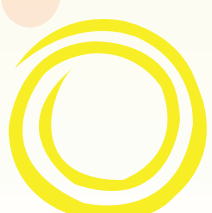

Director: Kristen Underwood

Cost: $ 125
(includes admission to Vesterheim Museum, snacks and all materials)

Scholarships available – please inquire

Participants in the 8th annual Nordic Fest Theatre Project (a collaboration between Vesterheim Museum, Upstart Crow Theatreworks, and ArtHaus), will dive into the secret life of trolls. This much-maligned creature makes an appearance in a multitude of cultural fables and myths of the past and present, but what does it really mean to be a troll?

Each day of the two week program will include theatre warm-ups and games, designed to build the skills needed for performance. We'll tour Vesterheim's collection, and use stories, music, and legend as reference material to create our original play to be performed during Nordic Fest.
